Website Terms & Conditions

Welcome to our website. If you continue to browse and use this website you are agreeing to comply with and be bound by the following terms and conditions of use, which together with our privacy and cookie policies govern Outdoor Media Associations relationship with you in relation to this website.

The term "OMA" or "us" or "we" refers to the owner of the website whose registered office is 205 Arena House, Arena Road, Sandyford Business Park, Leopardstown, Dublin 18.

The term "you" refers to the user or viewer of our website:

The use of this website is subject to the following terms of use:

- The content of the pages of this website is for your general information and use only and is subject to change without notice
- Neither we nor any third parties provide any warranty or guarantee as to the accuracy, timeliness, performance, completeness or suitability of the information and materials found or offered on this website for any particular purpose. You acknowledge that such information and materials may contain inaccuracies or errors and we expressly exclude liability for any such inaccuracies or errors to the fullest extent permitted by law
- Your use of any information or materials on this website is entirely at your own risk, for which we shall not be liable. It shall be your own responsibility to ensure that any products, services or information available through this website meet your specific requirements
- This website contains material which is owned by or licensed to us. This material includes, but is not limited to, the design, layout, look, appearance and graphics. Reproduction is prohibited other than in accordance with the copyright notice, which forms part of these terms and conditions
- All trademarks reproduced in this website, which are not the property of, or licensed to the operator, are acknowledged on the website
- Unauthorised use of this website may give to a claim for damages and/or be a criminal offence
- From time to time this website may also include links to other websites. These links are provided for your convenience to provide further information. They do not signify that we endorse the website(s). We have no responsibility for the content of the linked website(s)
- You may not create a link to this website from another website or document without the prior written consent of OMA .

Your use of this website and any dispute arising out of such use of the website is subject to the Laws of Ireland and Northern Ireland.

Privacy Statement

If you provide your personal data OMA confirms that it will not retain the information for purposes other than those specified in the request form you submit on the website. Unless required or permitted to do so by law OMA further confirms that it will not transfer or sell or otherwise dispose of your data to any third party.

If you are applying for employment at OMA, you will be asked to provide information including your name, address, contact details, nationality, education, qualifications and experience. You will also be asked to provide information on any criminal offences, if any, of which you have been convicted. OMA operates a policy of equal opportunities for employment and advancement, and therefore would like information about your ethnic origin, religious or other beliefs, sexual orientation, age and any disabilities you may have. You are not obliged to provide OMA with this sensitive data and your application will not be affected if you do not provide this.

OMA may use your information to ask you for your views on the services, and to notify you occasionally about important changes or developments to the website or its services.

Cookie Policy

You are informed that, when browsing our websites, cookies can be placed on your web browser to enable, in particular, optimal browsing. Cookies are data stored on your terminal equipment. Our websites use cookies to send information to your browser, enabling the browser to pass data back to the original website (for instance, a session ID, language preference or a date). Other types of trackers, such as web beacons, can also be used. These beacons make calls to servers to display a pixel and enable us to share data with third parties for the purposes described below.

Cookies and other trackers do not allow, under any circumstances, any automatic access to any other file on your computer. No unauthorised third party can access the data stored in the cookie. We may, however, use technologies supplied by third parties that result in the placement and use of trackers for purposes of their own.
